ARCHITECTURAL DESCRIPTION:

Describe architectural features. Evaluate the characteristics of this building in terms of other buildings within the community.

The Second Empire dwelling at 43 Dewey Street is set on a flat lot close to the edge of the street. The rectangular four by one bay building rests on a concrete foundation. Character defining features include: the Mansard roof, the arch dormers with ornate surrounds, the quoins, paired eaves brackets and the full width porch. The Mansard roof is concave and features arched dormer windows inset on the steep lower roof. A molded cornice bounds the lower roof slope above and below. The roof is sheathed in slate shingles. Small paired brackets support the lower projecting cornice. The full width front porch has a hipped roof supported by square columns. Each column features paired ornamental brackets supporting the porch frieze. A single bracket is centered on each column under the projecting eave of the porch roof. The walls are sheathed in large flat boards meant to simulate stone. Each corner is decorated with flat wood boards emulating stone coins. A brick chimney projects from the northeast corner of the roof. A small one story entry projects from the north side of the house. To the rear of the house is a hip roof garage. The single garage door is a pair of swinging garage doors. The garage walls are clad in wood clapboards and the roof is sheathed in asphalt shingles.

HISTORICAL NARRATIVE

Discuss the history of the building. Explain its associations with local (or state) history. Include uses of the building, and the role(s) the owners/occupants played within the community.

Summer, Dewey, and Cross Streets were laid out 1918-1919 when the Enoch Foster Estate was sold to James F O'Connelly. The main portion of Dr. Enoch Foster's Second Empire House was demolished in 1918, the carriage house was converted into the Town Fire Station and the rear ell was moved to Dewey Street 1920-1921 for use as a small single family dwelling. A new Town Hall was built on the location of the demolished house at the corner of Main and Pleasant Streets in 1921.

Connelly sold the lot now known as 43 Dewey Street to Frank E Riley in 1919 and Riley sold the house and lot to Louis Marion in 1922. Marion operated a construction company with his sons, Louis Marion & Sons Construction, developing several subdivisions in the mid twentieth century including Louis Drive and marion Drive.

Additional owners include: Louis M Marion (1922-1950)1139/87; Louis M & Anne A Marion (1950-1978); Suzanne A Mallett (wife) and John C Mallett III (1971-1978), from est of Anne A Marion (died 1969); John C Mallett III (1978-1988)2302/294; John C Mallett, III and Kendra Conn (1988-2002); Kevin Carlson & Diana Gouveia (2002); and Kevin & Diana Carlson 14150/268 (2002-2009).
